Governor Frear has declared strongly for the fixing of the salary of the Commissioner of Public Lands at $400 a month, contending that it would be impossible to secure a first class man for the figure of $300, the sum placed in the appropriation bill by the Hagis of Representatives.

The Legislature has let the Gov-ernor know that it will be glad to consider an increase in the salary if in the fight and acrimony injected in every discussion.

The same lobby that forced reconsideration of Senale Bill No. 36 and an amendment in the House to provide a 1¼ per cent tax limit today again split the members into two opposing camps. The conference committees named by the House and Senate after the House had amended the bill make their reports this morning. The important part of the report is that the amendment tacking on the one and one-eighth per cent limit be stricken out. In other words the conference committee * recommended to both houses that the tax bill pass without the limit.

At this afternoon's session of the board of education, Mrs. Compton, having failed to secure an attorney, morning, submitted to cross-question-ing by Principal Richmond. Rich-mond's questions related to the testimony she had already given and did not shake the points she had made. Regarding her statement that on a trip to Rainbow Falls he had made indecent proposals to her, she was asked if he had attempted violence or to lay hands on her. Mrs. Compton did not insist that he did, but reliterated that he had made the proposals to her.

Although but little of moment was brought out yesterday afternoon in the testimony of Mrs. Lewis and Miss Sandry, the session of the evening which held for three hours commencing at 8 o'clock, was full of lurid charges.

It was with the commencing of the evening meeting that Mrs. Compton was called upon to make her charges against Richmond and she did so with startling directness.

She charged the use of intoxicating liquor, almost habitual; told of Miss It is right for you to blow your own born, but it would sound better if you'd als to her.

A number of emphatic objections to the form of the House Concurrent Resolution No. 13, memoralizing Con-gress on the subject of the proposed national park at Kilanea, were made in the Senate this morning by Senator Judd.

Senator Judd stated that he wished to object to the form of the resolu tion as a representative of the "vested interests," mentioning the fact that he is a trustee of the Bishop Estate whose lands would be affected by the proposed lines of the national park
